09:50 SPONSORSHIP SLOT

From Static Portals to Intelligent Intranets: How AI Transforms the Employee Experience

Traditional intranets were built as static repositories - good at storing information, but poor at engaging people. Today's workforce expects more: personalized, intuitive, and connected digital experiences that mirror the consumer apps they use every day. Artificial intelligence is making this possible.

In this session, LumApps will explore how AI is transforming the intranet into a truly intelligent digital workplace hub. We'll showcase how machine learning and generative AI can deliver tailored communications, surface knowledge in context, and provide employees with a digital colleague that anticipates their needs. From onboarding to career development, AI-powered intranets enable organizations to deliver engaging, seamless employee journeys at scale.

Daily Bread - Rethinking How We Consume the Workplace

Workplaces should nourish us: creatively, socially, and emotionally. But are we truly engaging with them, or just grazing on the surface?

As work environments become more dynamic, their ability to fuel creativity, collaboration, and well-being is more vital than ever. This session invites you to rethink your relationship with the spaces in which you work - not as passive backdrops, but as living ecosystems.

Through the lens of design strategy, behavioural insight, and inclusive thinking, we'll explore how the environments we shape, and the habits we form within them, impact our resilience, innovation, and growth. Leave with a fresh framework and practical provocations to help you move beyond routine and start consuming your "daily bread" with greater intention.
