NAVIGATING THE EVOLVING
REGULATORY LANDSCAPE

09:50 SPONSORSHIP SLOT

Al and Data Anonymization:
Ensuring Privacy in Analytics

As AI-powered analytics grow, ensuring data privacy is more critical than ever. This session explores how anonymization techniques—like differential privacy, federated learning, and synthetic data—can protect sensitive information while preserving analytical value. We'll examine regulatory drivers, practical use cases, and strategies to balance compliance, performance, and trust in AI systems.

10:30 Case Study: Navigating the Next Chapter of EU Data Protection:
From GDPR to the Data Union Strategy

As data-driven innovation accelerates, the European Union is evolving its data protection framework beyond GDPR. This session will explore the transition from GDPR to the upcoming Data Union Strategy, highlighting how this new approach aims to enhance data sharing, streamline compliance, and maintain robust privacy protections across the EU. Participants will gain insights into key policy changes, their practical implications, and how organizations can prepare to remain compliant in a rapidly changing regulatory landscape.

Juraj Sajfert

Legal and Policy Officer in Data Protection Unit (C.3) of DG JUST European Commission

11:00 Morning Coffee and Networking Break 11:30 Case Study: Navigating the Global Privacy Maze: Corporate
Strategies for a Fragmented Legal Environment

This session explores how leading organizations are developing agile, scalable strategies to navigate overlapping and often conflicting data protection laws. We'll examine practical approaches to building global privacy frameworks, operationalizing local compliance, and leveraging technology to automate risk management, consent tracking, and data subject rights. Key insights will include aligning privacy with business objectives, balancing innovation with regulation, and managing vendor and cross-border data risks. Attendees will walk away with actionable strategies for staying compliant, resilient, and competitive in a world where privacy is no longer optional—but a business-critical differentiator.

Jeremy Rollison

Senior Director, EU Government Affairs
Microsoft

12:00 Case Study: The EU Data Act: A New Era
of Data Protection and Business Growth

- The EU Data Act: Introduction. Key definitions. Scope and objectives.
- Compliance and Operational Adjustments: Focused on banking sector and how banks are required to adapt their internal data governance structures, ensuring secure data portability, and comply with new obligations regarding data sharing.
- Opportunities for Growth and Innovation: Considering objectives of the new EU Data Act, how to leverage the data for tailored offerings, process automation, and improve participation in a broader data-driven ecosystem.

Marie Zavoralová

Vice President, Data Protection Officer,
Regulatory Compliance

EVOLVING LANDSCAPE

09:10 SPONSORSHIP SLOT

A Comprehensive Approach to Building a Robust Data Protection Technology Stack

This session offers a deep dive into the technologies and methodologies behind a modern, resilient data protection strategy. We'll explore how to build a scalable privacy tech stack that supports global compliance (GDPR, CCPA, EU Data Act) while enabling business agility and growth. From data discovery, classification, and automated risk assessments to real-time monitoring, encryption, and governance integration — you'll gain practical insights into what makes a tech stack effective and future-ready. We'll also look at how AI, automation, and cloud-native tools streamline compliance, reduce risk, and protect data across hybrid and multi-cloud environments. Finally, learn how to embed privacy by design into your architecture to build trust with customers, regulators, and stakeholders.

09:50 Case Study: Building Resilient Privacy Programs for the AI and Digital Era

We'll examine strategies for integrating privacy by design into AI systems, managing algorithmic transparency, and aligning governance frameworks with evolving global laws. Attendees will learn how to operationalize privacy in dynamic environments—balancing agility and automation with control and accountability. Real-world examples will highlight how leading organizations are embedding privacy into product development, data ecosystems, and cross-functional decision-making. Whether you're scaling an existing program or starting from scratch, this session offers practical insights to strengthen privacy resilience in a fast-moving digital world.

IQVIA

Nádia Costa is currently a Privacy Attorney within the Global Privacy Team at IQVIA, based in Lisbon, Portugal, following a previous posting in Basel, Switzerland. In this global role, she supports data protection strategy and compliance efforts across IQVIA's international operations.

Before joining IQVIA, Nádia was a Senior Associate at Vieira de Almeida e Associados (VdA) in Lisbon, where she was part of the TMT – Telecoms & Media, Privacy & Data Protection, IT & Outsourcing practice groups. In addition to her work in the corporate and technology sectors, she also advised clients in the third sector, including associations and foundations, focusing on legal and regulatory matters related to data and privacy.

Claus D. Ulmer
Senior Vice President Group Privacy
Deutsche Telekom

Claus Ulmer will elaborate on the necessary enhancement of a company's privacy management system due to the constantly accelerating digitization. He will show what changes in functional responsibilities are necessary to integrate data privacy in the strategic planning of a company and vice versa. The interconnection between business leaders and the data privacy organization does support and enhance faster rollout of IT solutions and products.

Establishing a Privacy Trend Radar will help to keep the upcoming to-dos under control.

Donovan Sheppard
Senior Counsel, Data Privacy
UCB

Mr. Donovan Sheppard has over ten years of experience in corporate law, privacy and data protection, and cybersecurity. He currently serves as the Head of Legal Data Privacy and Global DPO at UCB. He holds the CIPP/E and Data Protection Auditor certifications, demonstrating his strong expertise in the fields of Privacy and Data Protection, ICT, and business laws. Until late 2024, he was a member of the board of the IBJ-IJE, the professional association of in-house lawyers in Belgium, where he actively contributed to the promotion and recognition of the legal profession.

Mr. Sheppard is passionate about digital transformation and Legal Design, recognizing the opportunities and challenges they present. He values innovation, collaboration, and trust, consistently striving to provide pragmatic and compliant solutions. His commitment is to empower UCB in creating valuable solutions that enhance the lives of individuals living with neurological and autoimmune conditions, ensuring that data is used responsibly.

Jeremy Rollison

Jeremy Rollison is Senior Director of EU Government Affairs within Microsoft's Corporate, External & Legal Affairs (CELA) group. He leads the team in Brussels responsible for Twin Transition policy topics and corresponding regulatory engagement on issues ranging from data governance and intellectual property to sustainability, accessibility, SME/startup policy, tax, trade, gaming, and digital skills.

With an individual focus and background on data policy—namely, privacy (CIPP/E), lawful access, and IP considerations—he is responsible for much of Microsoft's engagement with European stakeholders and partners on policy surrounding emerging data issues, particularly the challenges and opportunities related to data sharing, access, and use in the provision of cloud and artificial intelligence (AI) services in Europe.

Prior to joining Microsoft, he worked at Nokia in the company's EU Government Relations office, focusing on IP, copyright, and privacy policy. He also served as Director and Secretary-General of the European Digital Media Association (EDI&A; now Dot.Europe) in Brussels. He has over 15 years of EU public policy experience focusing on the development and delivery of digital and online services in the Internal Market and corresponding EU regulatory policy.
